

THE GLOBE AND MAIL • SATURDAY, MARCH 26, 2011

SAVVY TRAVELLER » BY MERCEDEH SANATI

Not your family cottage

Kennebunkport – One glimpse of Hidden Pond will take you to a sophisticated side of this traditional Maine village. With 14 cottages dotting more than 24 hectares of isolated woodland, the chic boutique resort is kicking off the summer season by introducing 20 new bungalows to its collection. They are homes-away-from home with down duvets, Frette linens, floor-to-ceiling fireplaces and Bose sound systems. A new spa offers massages and facials from therapy rooms set in the treetops, and a gourmet restaurant serves farm to fork dishes crafted by James Beard Award-winning chef Ken Oringer. A special opening rate of $399 (U.S.) a night is on offer from the end of May through June 23. hiddenpondmaine.com